Thank you for your interest in subscribing to the QBank online testing system for agricultural science education! To begin, please read the instructions below regarding your Missouri CDE Test Bank subscription.

What is included with this subscription?
This subscription includes an online testing system that both teachers and students can access. Once your chapter subscribes to a particular subscription, your students will then have the ability to sign in to QBank and takes the exams online. Students can view all of their previous attempts for each exam. Teachers can also see all the results of their students' exam through the system. In addition to the online testing system, you also have the ability to generate a PDF copy of each exam that you can print.

How do I subscribe?
Teachers can subscribe to this and other question banks by accessing http://quiz.judgingcard.com/subscribe.aspx. Choose the subscription you would like to purchase and click Subscribe. You will be asked to enter your JudgingCard.com chapter credentials. After you enter your username and password, you will be signed into the QBank system.

Are questions combined into one question bank or divided by year?
Each question bank is divided by CDE type as well as year. Questions from different years are not combined. When students start a new exam, a set number of questions are randomly pulled from the question bank. Each time an exam is started, the questions are pulled again at random and will not be in the same order as before.

How do my students access QBank?
Your students can access QBank through two methods.

Method 1: FFA ID Login – Students can enter their chapter number (ex: MO0050) and their National FFA ID. If your chapter has subscribed to a package, the student will be given access to those particular exams.

Your FFA roster is attempted to be downloaded when you first subscribe to QBank. You can see the full list of your students under the Students tab in your menu. If you are missing a student in the list, you can manually create their account by entering their name and FFA ID.

Method 2: AET Student Login – Student can enter their Chapter Number (ex: MO0050) and AET username/password. If the student is currently listed on your AET Student Roster, they will be given access to the set of exams that your chapter is subscribed to.

You do not have to manually create your Student accounts with the AET Student Login method. Students that already have an AET account can automatically login to the QBank system.

How do I see the results of the exams my students have taken?
All exam results for your chapter can be viewed by clicking on the Missouri CDE Test Bank link on your homepage. This will show the list of all the exams with this subscription. Click on each exam bank to see the individual student results for that question bank.

When does my subscription end?
Subscriptions are valid through May 31st.

How much does this subscription cost?
The Missouri CDE Test Bank (with online testing) is available for $60.00/year. This includes the ability to generate PDF copies of each exam.
